Bombing Deadline Arrives

Pilots Assigned Final Targets

PHNOM PENH (AP) — American pilots were assigned their targets in Cambodia for final strikes before the Congress-imposed bombing halt designed to get the United States out of its combat role in Indochina.

The halt was imposed beginning midnight Tuesday EDT. That is 11 a.m. Wednesday in Phnom Penh, giving the U.S. warplanes time for a last morning of bombing runs before the end of their intensive eight-year air campaign in Indochina.

The 7.4 million tons of bombs and other explosives rained by the United States on Indochina since 1965 was three times the amount the United States used in World War II and 10 times the amount in the Korean War.

The bombing during recent months has been credited with a large role in keeping the Cambodian government of President Lon Nol in power.

Informed sources said Tuesday in Saigon that thousands of ethnic Cambodians living in South Vietnam, including some drawn from South Vietnamese army units, have been flown to Phnom Penh to help the Lon Nol government survive after the U.S. bombing ends.

The U.S. Embassy in Saigon and a spokesman for the South Vietnamese military denied the report.

The daily bombing of Cambodia for 6½ months, since 10 days after the January Vietnam peace agreement, had slowed but not stopped advances on Phnom Penh by Communist-led insurgents. U.S. bombing errors in the final weeks of intensive attacks also killed scores of civilians and government troops.

The last American raids included continual strikes around Phnom Penh's perimeter. An estimated 4,000 insurgents are massed for an attack west of the capital's international airport.

On the eve of the bombing halt, life in Phnom Penh was undisturbed. Shoppers and commuters jammed the streets. The residents could hear the short thuds of bombs from U.S. fighter-bombers and the explosions of the B52s's bombs that sounded like barrels rolling off a roof.

The United States will continue to fly reconnaissance missions and cargo missions in Cambodia, according to Pentagon sources. Some of the U.S. warplanes based in Thailand will remain there as a deterrent to new offensives by North Vietnam in Indochina or against Thailand.

The United States will start pulling some of its 660 planes and 45,000 servicemen out of Thailand in about a month, sources indicated.

Remodeling Rushed . . .

Fair Goes On Despite Work

By DOMINICK COSTELLO
Farm Editor

The farmers and the carpenters are getting in each other's way to some extent, but the Lancaster County Fair is progressing reasonably smoothly in spite of remodeling of the 4-H building being rushed in time for completion for the State Fair.

"We have some open class cattle tied outside, which isn't good, and some in hog pens, which isn't much better. A steer in a sheep pen is really bad," grumbled one cattle showman.

The tight space problem due to continued construction proved to be an advantage for the county poultry show, which was moved into the State Fair poultry building.

"We have more than 270 birds tested and many more that were tested before the fair. I haven't counted the rabbits, but it is the biggest county fair poultry show in the state according to the man who tested the birds," reported Howard Wiegers, poultry superintendent.

'Quality Very High'

"I think we may be down about 200 in total home economics exhibits this year, but the quality is very high. The clothing exhibits in particular are much improved over last year," said Twila Lidolph, home agent.

One area where both quality and quantity were both down was in the beef entries. "The open class is down from 60 head last year to 21 head this year and the 4-H class is down from 220 to about 190 this year. It is this way at all the county fairs I visited this year," said Cyril Bish, county agent.

Bish credited the drop to the hard winter, high priced calves, high priced feed and other problems in producing beef this year.

'Show Calves Thin'

"I am convinced this is why you don't see many cattle going to market these days too. Nobody has any that really are ready. When show calves are thin you can bet the cattle in the feedlots are thin too," he added.

Hog and sheep numbers in the 4-H exhibits are expected to be somewhat higher than last year. Judging in swine and sheep will begin Wednesday morning, dairy Wednesday afternoon and the beef show — which is expected to draw the largest crowd — will be held at 8 a.m. Thursday.

The fair winds up with the purple ribbon parade Thursday evening in the big 4-H arena at the State Fairgrounds.

Nearly 300 girls are expected to enter the two-day style show. The first division will parade its projects Wednesday afternoon on the first floor of the 4-H building and the second group on Thursday morning. Style queens will be picked and announced Thursday evening.

Tar-Covered Dog Hard To Get Clean

Two Humane Society employes were faced with a messy job Tuesday. They had to use kerosene to clean tar from a blonde Cocker Spaniel after the dog tangled with some tar which apparently leaked from a tank. When found the dog was having difficulty breathing because the tar was up to his face. The two-year-old dog, found behind the house at 1335 No. 19th, was not wearing a tag. (Star Photo).

Park Ranger To Be Disciplined

By LYNN ZERSCHLING
Star Staff Writer

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf has directed that disciplinary action be taken against a park ranger in connection with a personnel misconduct complaint stemming from a June 23 altercation at the Antelope Swimming Pool.

Park Ranger Richard Baird will be suspended for five working days without pay and benefits. A scheduled merit pay increase also will be withheld until reinstated by the mayor.

A second park ranger, Clarence Cooper, was cleared of all charges in the incident.

The charges were filed June 25 by two, 18-year-old blacks, Will Nix and Glenn Payne, who alleged they were beaten by Baird and Cooper at the bathhouse.

Police Lt. Roger LaPage and City Human Rights Officer Gerald Henderson conducted the investigation. They found that at approximately 3:45 p.m. on June 23, Nix "did without provocation or justification assault Park Ranger Clarence Cooper in the vicinity of the bathhouse" of the city's newest pool, at 23rd and M.

Other teenagers at the scene assisted Nix in the assault on Cooper "without provocation or justification," the report stated.

In the process of the assault, Cooper "was placed in a position where he was unable to reasonably defend himself."

It was at this time that Baird entered the bathhouse locker room.

"Reasonably believing," the report stated, that Cooper was in danger of being injured and in an attempt to come to his aid, Baird "did unholster his .38 caliber, Smith & Wesson service revolver, hold it above his head, point it toward the ceiling of the bathhouse and discharge one round."

In his disposition of the case, Mayor Schwartzkopf ruled that although Cooper acted in "a lawful, commendable and professional manner," Baird violated a departmental policy on the use of firearms.

That Parks and Recreation departmental policy prohibits a park ranger from using his service revolver "for the purpose employed by Ranger Baird" in this case, the mayor said.

Although noting that Baird obviously believed his action in firing the revolver "was necessary and would be the only means of stopping the assault" on Cooper, Schwartzkopf directed that Baird be suspended.

The mayor commended Lt. LaPage and Henderson for their detailed investigation of the matter, which resulted in an inch-thick stack of confidential reports on the matter.

However, Schwartzkopf did point out that neither Nix nor Payne kept their prearranged appointments with the two-man investigating team to give their written statements on the incident.

Originally, Nix was charged with assaulting Cooper, in connection with the incident. The plea was amended and Nix pleaded no contest to disturbing the peace. He was found guilty in County Court and was fined $25.

Kansas Saves Money For Consumers

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of four articles on Nebraska state government protection of the consumer.)

In the first half of 1973, the Office of the Attorney General of Kansas figures it has directly saved Kansas consumers $69,513.46.

The attorney general's office in Nebraska's southern neighbor has a consumer protection division which enforces that state's consumer protection laws.

In June, it handled 383 cases, 218 of which were inquiries which could be satisfied with information.

But Kansas consumers were saved money in 41 cases. In 15 instances, merchandise was either replaced, repaired or finally delivered.

Three cases were referred to a county attorney; six were referred to private attorneys.

All told, the office closed 335 of the cases in June, figuring that only three of them had no basis in fact.

Nebraska does not have a similar comprehensive consumer protection office. But complaints do filter in to state government — to the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Insurance, the Public Service Commission, and others.

"We get tips directly from citizens themselves, mostly on food inspection," State Agriculture Director Glenn Kreuscher said.

"I'd say a high percentage of the letters and calls we get are very conscientious — with a real reason for complaint."

Kreuscher's department is involved in the enforcement of 33 statutes relating to consumer protection, including food inspection, restaurant and lodging sanitation, livestock and feed inspection and disease control, testing of weights and measures.

"When it comes to protecting the consumer, we don't care if we're nice guys or not," Kreuscher said.

In Lincoln, he said, he once gave a hotel eight days to "clean up its food service, or we'd close it." A Lincoln night club was forced to "throw away" its meat supply because it was too old.

Horse race fans who were on hand for the first day's action at the State Fairgrounds this year may have noticed a distinct shortage of concessions — only one stand had met the department's sanitation standards for opening day.

"Unless people in the departments are serious about consumer protection, just getting a law passed is not enough," Kreuscher says. "You've got to have people who will follow through."

STAR PHOTO

GAS PUMP . . . checked for accuracy by state inspector.

Kreuscher's decisions can be appealed to the District Court.

His department has "really updated our operation and gotten real serious" on consumer protection during the past two years, he said. "I'm just thankful we've been able to recruit top-notch qualified people to do the job."

Kreuscher believes "90% of the effort" in consumer protection is education — of both the consumer and the producer or retailer.

"There's no such thing as too much inspection on food," he says. "We try to see everyone about every 30 to 45 days. If their operation is questionable, you can bet your boots they'll see us more often.

"People who are running a good place welcome it. If they don't, they're either running a place they're ashamed of or they don't give much care to the consumer."

When action is taken to "clean up" a retailer, Kreuscher said, it is "invariably taken on the state level rather than the local level." Tough action by the city in either Lincoln or Omaha is "practically nil," he said.

Bill Abell, Kreuscher's chief legal counsel, keeps a long list of consumer activities which the department regulates: potato development, nursery stock, wheat development, weather control, pesticides, tractors, poultry disease, sanitation at lodging establishments, restaurant inspection, livestock diseases, commercial feed, livestock dealer licensing and sanitation, meat and poultry inspection, food inspection, dairy trade practices, milk manufacturing, the quality of eggs and frozen desserts, soft drinks, anti-freeze, weights and measures.

State Banking Director Henry Ley's department rides herd on 709 financial institutions in Nebraska, including banks, small loan companies, sales finance companies, credit unions, building and loan associations, industrial loan and investment companies.

Ley's examiners keep track of investments, bookkeeping systems, assets, customer charges.

"We also follow up on any complaints from the public, and we get quite a few," Ley said.

"But we find that in most cases the financial institutions have operated correctly. As a general rule, the problems are honest errors."

When necessary, Ley can insist on outside audits of an institution and, as a final resort, revoke its license to operate in the state.

Consumer protection is written into the bank charter statutes in language which requires any new bank to show that its establishment would promote "Public necessity, convenience and advantage."

Ley figures he has approved about half of the bank charter applications submitted to him.

Mike Edwards, legal counsel in the department's Bureau of Securities, keeps tab on securities sold in Nebraska. Anybody who sells securities has to be examined and registered, as do investment advisers.

But, Edwards said, the department "does not have all the regulatory powers it should have" in the securities field.

"The 1965 law we operate was drafted by the Investment Bankers Association, a special interest group which may have been looking out for industry more than the customer," Edwards said.

Wider authority might be helpful, he noted.

Thieves Steal Soft Million — Eggs That Is

CESENA, Italy (AP) — A delicate operation: thieves stole about a million eggs Tuesday from a poultry farm near this northern Adriatic town, police reported.

Officers estimated the eggs' worth at about $7,000. They said nothing about how the robbers got away with all those eggs and could only guess at how many might have been broken during the transport.

Watergate Speech Is Tonight

Washington (AP) — President Nixon will make his nationally broadcast address on the Watergate scandal at 8 p.m. CDT Wednesday, the White House announced Tuesday.

The President's long-awaited response to allegations flowing from the political conspiracy controversy will be delivered live from his Oval Office. It will be 20 to 30 minutes in length, a presidential spokesman said.

At the same time, officials said, Nixon will release a more detailed written statement giving his account of the events that have spurred widespread investigations by Congress and the executive branch.

The address, to be carried by all the national television and radio networks, will be Nixon's first extensive response since May 22 to the scandal that has shaken his administration.

Welfare Applicant Probes Revitalized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret state investigations of welfare applicants and recipients, abolished in the 1960s, were re-established Tuesday by a new set of federal rules.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the sweeping changes affecting relief eligibility determination, fair hearings and recovery of overpayments will help reduce errors costing taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

"The purpose of these regulations is to make sure welfare funds get to those in need, and to help restore the public's faith in our welfare system," said HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger. "The longer large overpayments and payments to ineligible recipients continue, the more people in real need are deprived of funds intended for them."

The rules were bitterly contested by welfare organizations, recipients and legal aid groups who argued that return to secret probes might lead to harassment and invasion of privacy.

In response to those comments on the original April 20 proposals, HEW included a section which it said "restates that constitutional rights are to be observed and protected."

"I have an awful lot of confidence that states and counties are going to do right by their poor," said Robert B. Carleson, former California welfare director and now special welfare assistant to Weinberger.

At present, a state can make outside contacts to determine eligibility only with the permission of the applicant or recipient.

The new rules take effect in 60 days but states may implement them immediately if new legislation is not needed, Carleson said.

American Bombing In Cambodia Comes To An End

(c) New York Times News Service

Washington — American bombing in Cambodia came to an end with the Nixon administration still pledging to do everything possible within the law to support the government of President Lon Nol. The cessation of all bombing activity by Aug. 15, voted by Congress on June 30, and accepted by President Nixon with "grave personal reservations," marked the official end to America's 12 years of combat activity in Southeast Asia, where some 46,000 Americans died, mostly in South Vietnam. (More on Page 1.)

Nixon Worries Rich, Powerful

Washington — A White House official who has recently seen President Nixon expressed concern that Nixon seemed to be committed to a hard-line defense of his administration in the Watergate scandal. Such a rigid stance, the official said, could foreclose the reconciliation needed for the President to govern effectively for the rest of his term. Outside the government, men of great wealth and power, ranging from the Rockefellers to the lawyer barons of Washington, have been asking each other an unanswered question: "What is the state of mind of Richard M. Nixon

Abduction Well-Planned

Seoul — Kim Dae Jung, the South Korean opposition leader, who disappeared suddenly in Tokyo six days ago, said his abduction had all the marks of careful planning, skilled execution and close monitoring by those in charge. Kim was freed near his home in Seoul Thursday night, bruised and cut. He believed that his abductors feared serious damage to South Korea's relations with Japan if he had failed to turn up alive.

Price Increases Swell

New York — The trickle of price increases that began Monday when the administration's price freeze gave way to Phase 4 swelled to a steady stream. Increases were announced, and in some cases put into effect, for such diverse items as airline tickets, telephone calls, automobiles, steel, macaroni and baseballs.

U.S. Raps Israeli Action

World News

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States on Tuesday denounced Israel's forcing down of an Arab airliner as a "violation of the United Nations charter and of the rule of law in international civil aviation."

"Travel by air, as was travel by sea in an earlier age, must be insulated and protected from unlawful interference," Ambassador John Scali told the Security Council. "It must no longer be a pawn in international conflicts."

Scali thus made clear the United States would support Security Council condemnation of the interception of the plane last Friday night in an unsuccessful Israeli hunt for Palestinian guerrilla leaders.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah accused the United Nations of a double standard in the Middle East and rejected any condemnation by the council while Arab terrorists go unpunished.

He criticized what he called "the notion that there can be one law applicable in general and another applicable to Israel."

'Israel will not acquiesce in the continuation of armed attacks emanating from Arab states against it, its citizens, against Jewish people in various parts of the world," Tekoah declared.

Britain, France and China led a parade of condemnatory speeches against Israel while diplomats worked outside the chamber on a resolution that would be acceptable to all 15 members.

Berrigans Arrested At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace activists Daniel and Jerome Berrigan and several other demonstrators were arrested Tuesday as they knelt at the White House.

Daniel Berrigan said the protest was over U.S. bombing in Cambodia "and a lot of deaths in Vietnam."

About 80 demonstrators waited among the tourists to get into the White House tours. They sang, "We Shall Overcome."

White House police did not stop the activists from going through the tourist gate. But most of the demonstrators stopped and knelt on the steps before entering the White House.

A few demonstrators continued the White House tour, singing antiwar songs as they walked through the rooms with tourists.

At that time no arrests were made inside the mansion, but earlier three demonstrators were arrested as they prayed at the North Portico. They were among about 30 who went through the residence chanting antiwar songs.

The demonstrators arrested outside were flanked by police as they were dragged from the steps. They sang, "we shall not be moved" and others outside the gate also joined in.

Many tourists waiting outside in the hot sun applauded.

Chicken Thieves Join Rustlers In California

Redding, Calif. (UPI) — Chicken thieves and turkeynapers have joined cattle rustlers in the illegal reaction to high meat prices.

Shasta County sheriff's deputies Tuesday investigated the theft of 200 chickens and 100 turkeys — valued at $2,000 — from the Project City Poultry Ranch during the weekend.

Girl May Be Paralyzed

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — A teen-age girl injured in an automobile accident involving two sons of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., remained in serious condition Tuesday at Cape Cod Hospital with a fractured spine and broken leg.

Physicians said Pamela Kelly, 19, of Centerville was in stable condition after a three-hour operation Monday night.

They said there were indications the girl might be paralyzed, but they stated it was too early to tell the extent of the paralysis or if it would be permanent.

Miss Kelly was the most seriously injured of seven young people who were in a car driven by Joseph P. Kennedy III, 20. It went out of control Monday on a road on Nantucket Island and flipped over into bushes.

All seven young people were injured to some degree, but only Miss Kelly; David A. Kennedy, 18, and Mary Schlaff, 22, of Grosse Point, Mich., were kept at the hospital overnight.

David Kennedy, Joseph's brother, suffered a sprained back and Miss Schlaff suffered a fractured pelvis. Both were described as in good condition. Joseph Kennedy received cuts and bruises.

Milk Price Supports To Rise

Washington (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz announced Tuesday that price supports for milk will be increased by 32 cents per hundredweight for the remainder of the marketing year which ends March 31, 1974.

The increase is effective immediately and goes from $5.29 to $5.61 per hundredweight.

To carry out the increase, Butz said, buying prices of the Commodity Credit Corp. will be raised 3 cents for cheese and 3.9 cents a pound for non-fat dry milk. Butter buying prices will remain unchanged.

Two Indicted In Slayings

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A grand jury investigating the largest case of mass murder in recent American history returned indictments against two teen-agers allegedly involved in the Houston torture-sex case slayings.

State District Court Judge Noah Kennedy announced the indictments against Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, and David Owen Brooks, 18, after the grand jury met for 6½ hours.

Henley was charged in the indictments in the July 27 shooting death of Charles Cary Cobble, 17, and the strangulation of Marty Ray Jones, 18, on the same day.

Brooks and Henley were jointly charged in the July 10 strangulation of William Ray Lawrence, 15.

The bodies of Cobble and Jones were found with 15 others in a boat shed in Houston. Lawrence's body was recovered near Lake Sam Rayburn in East Texas.

Twenty-seven bodies have been recovered by authorities from three locations since last Wednesday.

Agnew Records Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Sprio T. Agnew said Tuesday he would make his personal records available to federal prosecutors probing political corruption in Maryland. He also said he was agreeable to a personal interview.

In a letter to U.S. Atty. George Beall in Baltimore, the vice president said he would have the records available immediately for inspection and copying at his office in the Executive Office Building.

However, Agnew made clear that he was granting access only to his personal financial and income tax records sought by the prosecutor's office and not the official records of the vice president.

Guardsman Identity Said Known

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has been told that several Kent State University students can identify the National Guardsman who fired the first shot in the 1970 campus shootings, a knowledgeable congressional source said Tuesday.

House committee investigators have turned over to the department reports of interviews with some 60 individuals who witnessed various parts of the confrontation, including those who say they can identify the guardsman, the source reported.

The material also included film showing free lance photographer Terrence B. Norman handing a pistol to a campus policeman and another film showing the group of guardsmen firing upon the students.

Barrett Requests Exon Accounting

. . . $100,000 Said Raised

By United Press International

State Republican Chairman Bill Barrett called on Gov. J. James Exon Tuesday to disclose "all funds that have possibly been stockpiled for the 1974 gubernatorial campaign."

During the last legislative session, Barrett said, the governor, through Sen. Richard Fellman of Omaha, introduced a bill to put a lid of $50,000 on spending in the governor's election.

But Barrett added that sources have revealed that Exon raised approximately $100,000. This appears to be contrary to the bill he proposed, the GOP chairman said.

He added that many questions have been raised since it was learned that a $500 check received by the governor for a speaking engagement was endorsed over to the Citizens for Exon Committee by the governor.

Exon has reported that after he found out what he had done, he took the funds out of the committee account and put them under his personal income.

Barrett said the governor has said there were three checks of this kind and wondered when Exon decided to credit these checks to his own income, rather than to the Citizens for Exon Committee.

Barrett also said he would like to know if the groups to whom Exon spoke were aware the money they gave him was going to the Citizens for Exon Committee.

He said the public "deserves a complete accounting of all the transactions on the Citizens for Exon account."

The Republican Party has always stood for full disclosure of campaign contributions and the Republican congressional delegation makes full disclosures when it files reports four times annually, Barrett said.

Three More Persons Die In Highway Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Three names were added to Nebraska's list of 1973 traffic fatalities Tuesday.

Funeral services are pending for a Norfolk man who died Tuesday of injuries sustained in a two-vehicle collision south of Norfolk on Sunday.

The victim, D. Gay Crotty, was injured when his car collided with a camper unit being driven by Richard D. Holman, 35, of Nebraska City.

Four passengers in the Holman car sustained minor injuries, it was reported.

The accident occurred on U.S. 81, three miles south of Norfolk. Crotty was alone in his car when the mishap occurred.

Two Omahans were killed Tuesday in a one-car crash just west of the city on West Dodge Road.

Officers of the Douglas County Sheriff's office identified them as the driver, Devern Hoogensen, 45, and a passenger, Dean Sandberg, 48.

Woman Killed While Spouse, Son Outside

CHICAGO (AP) — A Seattle woman was stabbed to death in a downtown Grant Park restroom Monday as her husband and infant son stood outside.

A man who police said bolted from the restroom just moments after the slaying was arrested a short time later and charged with murder.

Lester Harrison, 49, of Chicago was captured by the woman's husband and several city employes, authorities said.

When apprehended, Harrison was carrying a bloody knife and a newspaper picture of a woman slain earlier in the Grant Park area, police said.

Monday's slaying was the fourth in the Grant Park area during the past year.

Police identified the victim as Judith Elaine Ott, 28.

Police said Mrs. Ott, her husband, David, and 20-month-old son Aaron were waiting for a train to Massachusetts, where they planned to visit relatives.

While strolling through Grant Park, Mrs. Ott went into the restroom. Her husband heard a scream, and a man emerged.

Ott and four city employes pursued the man across park grounds while motorists along crowded Lake Shore Drive stopped to watch the chase.

Police said Ott brought the man down with a tackle.

The walls, floor and ceiling of the washroom were found splattered with blood following the slaying.

Mrs. Ott was pronounced dead at a hospital with stab wounds in the neck and chest.

Lake Lots In Demand

The list of persons who would like to buy or lease lakeside lots from the state at Lake McConaughy includes more than 200 names.

The applications began coming into the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds after the board last year sold a dozen lots at $500 per tract.

The 1973 Legislature enacted a law permitting the board to sell, at its discretion, state school lands as leases on the lands expire.

One member of the board, Wallace Farrar of Maywood, has prepared preliminary drawings for a 168-lot subdivision near where the 12 lots were sold.

Hospital Unionization 'On Horizon'

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A Lincoln hospital administrator Tuesday warned the Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee that national wage controls could spur unionization of hospital employes.

"If that does come about," James Leslie, controller at Bryan Memorial Hospital, told committee members, "you will see a big increase in hospital costs."

Hospital employes are frozen into a 5½% annual wage hike, Leslie said, but they can see unions negotiating contracts generally in the range of 7% to 8%.

'Lurking On Horizon'

As a result, he said, "a national hospital union is lurking on the horizon."

Salaries represent about 60% of a hospital's operating costs, Leslie said. With employe fringe benefits, the figure is closer to 80%.

Inflation has spurred the annual increase in hospital costs to about 13%, Leslie said, but hospitals are held within federal price controls.

The result, he warned, may be "a deterioration of the health system."

Many hospitals are using up cash reserves which had been held for medical technology and borrowing money to meet their operating needs, he said.

'No Way'

"There is no way we can recover our total costs under the present system," Leslie said. "We need some means to recoup our costs."

Some hospital supplies have increased in cost by 20%, and some food costs are "more than that," he told the senators. Price increases over the past year have been "inordinate," he noted.

Hospitals have had to share their increased costs with non-Medicare patients and their insurance carriers, Leslie said.

But the answer to increasing hospital costs is not socialized medicine, James Canedy of Omaha emphasized to the committee.

"God deliver us," the administrator of Bishop Clarkson Memorial Hospital told an inquiring senator. Canedy is president of the Nebraska Hospital Association.

'How Far?'

Sen. Richard Lewis of Holbrook broached the question, and Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood wondered "how far are we from it" as hospital costs move farther beyond the patient's ability to pay.

Schmit said constituents often show him their hospital bills.

"These are people who have always made their own way and paid all their obligations, but there is no way they can pay those bills privately," he noted.

Sen. Frank Lewis of Bellevue said the state must be sure that quality health care is as available to the poor as to those who can afford it and the aged who are covered by Medicare.

The state's medicaid program provides assistance for citizens who are public welfare recipients.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Seldom has the state of the nation's economy generated the. kind of discussion, analysis and dissatisfaction that currently characterize it. Not a day goes by without there being one or more news stories about the rising cost of living, especially the steady climb in grocery prices.

As you contemplate this, a number of things occur to you. For one, you wonder how matters ever got quite as bad as they are. Obviously, none of the "phases" of federal controls we have gone through have done the job expected of them.

The perplexing thing about this is that it demonstrates an economic illiteracy in the face of presumed sophistication. The leading economists can talk in terms that leave you impressed. They can balance out the various components of the economy and come up with answers that appear most impressive to the unlearned.

The trouble is that so little of what they say really comes to pass. Some of them are right, of course, but that is like 10,000 people betting on a horse race. If one of the 10,000 had ever seen a horse before, some of the group would end up betting on the winner.

What we cannot understand is how the situation can become so muddled what with all the ability that abounds in our nation. It sounds trite but it is meaningful to ask how we can put men on the moon but can't figure out what really makes the economy tick and what to do about it.

And we wonder about the details of the Phase 4 we are now in. As this phase opens, the big auto and steel manufacturers have begun to announce intended price increases running around 5%. This supposedly represents increased costs of the past not yet incorporated into the current price schedule.

But what happens when you look at wages? Wages are frozen under Phase 4 to an increase of 5.5%. There is no doubt whatsoever that the cost of living in the last half of this year will go up a lot more than 5.5%.

That means that wage earners are going to be relatively worse off at the end of 1973 than they were at the beginning of the year. And according to some economists, this sort of thing has been going on since 1966 when you look at averages.

That is part of the problem side of things. On another front, the American people would do well to keep in mind that the difficulties of the economy are a part of the price we pay for the free economic system.

Now, you may say it isn't free when there are government controls in existence but that is a relative matter. The economy could be far more controlled than it is and stands where it does today only because of the nation's reluctance to interfere more than is absolutely essential.

★

While beef may be short at the moment and many other things are very high, our free economy has been the most productive and generally rewarding of any nation in the world. Just imagine a nation that is contemplating the exportation of one-half of its total wheat harvest.

And the array of food that is available to you in today's super-markets is something to behold. And how many non-food and non-essential items are in your grocery basket when you lament the total on the tape at the checkout stand?

How many families are really suffering much of anything even now when things are scarce? We might wonder why we could not do a better job of things and matters could certainly be better than they are but they are still far better than the vast majority of the rest of the world.

The 'Lingerie Look' Latest Fashion Trend

NEW YORK — It is an American tradition for thoughtful husbands occasionally to present their wives with black, lace-trimmed nightgowns — which thoughtful wives rarely wear to bed, because they're too nice to sleep in.

But beginning this fall, fashion experts predict, the black nightgowns will come out of storage and be the going garb for dinner parties and even nights on the town.

The "lingerie look" is The Look for autumn and winter, 1973. And judging from the stocks of sleepy-time styles beginning to make their appearance in top stores in New York, we may be well on our way to an acceptance of nude-above-the-waist dresses. . . which some fashion stylists have predicted is the inevitable fashion for the mid and late '70s.

Even more popular than the nightgownish dress next season will be the "slip dress" — which is like the black gown, except that it stops at the knees. The top is a conventional slip-top: slender straps over the shoulders, with see-through lace decorating a V-neckline, and sometimes featuring a lacy midriff. The hem is lace-edged or flounced.

Indeed, the new "dresses" are so lingerie-like that they make you a little sleepy just looking at them. That is, they make women a little sleepy. "They wake men up," my husband thinks.

There is a strong possibility that in elegant parties, the girls who wear conventional floor length evening garb in competition with girls wearing nightgowns will feel quite square, however rounded their figures may be, because the new look is so radically different from any other styles this side of the bedroom. It was reported that at a cocktail party in Westport, Conn., "the men simply flocked around the women" wearing the new dresses (fortunately, including the hostess), "and the rest of the women, who wore other long styles, just kind of stood on the sidelines."

☆ ☆ ☆

If the slinky, black, lacy lingerie-dress does become the top look of the coming season, it will make exhibitionistic women most comfortable. But, if we are to believe some male opinions, it will make some men highly uncomfortable.

No less an authority than Donald Sauers, the founder of the American Society of Girl Watchers has told us that "Underdressed women are definitely out with girl-discerning men!

"Undressed girls, particularly as they are photographed so bovinely in men's magazines, are rather dreary. As for seeing underdressed girls in private parties, or in public clubs, it is quite demoralizing," said Sauers.

"True girl watchers, like bird watchers, are happiest only when the subject is alive and moving and well clothed."

There is a moral in the above statements by gentlemen, which should be heeded by girls who elect to wear The Look for autumn.

Wear "slip dresses" or "nightgown dresses," if you will; but if your husband or other male friends look uncomfortable or disapproving, cease and desist:

One man's ogle may be another man's ugh.

Touchy Judges Spurn Night Court

Lincoln's three Municipal Court judges want a fourth judgeship created and they want the City Council to also provide funds for a fourth municipal courtroom. But they are dead set against what the council has brought up in connection with an additional municipal judge — the creation of a night court.

In a letter to the council this week the judges said their own study "has convinced us that such a (night) court is unnecessary." The council was even reprimanded for showing any interest in the idea. Its "persistence into the night court problem," the judges said, goes beyond constructive criticism and "is an intrusion upon the judicial branch by the legislative branch." Further, the court flatly stated that it had "no intention of requesting a time-consuming and totally irrelevant study by the Lincoln Bar Association" — a study which the council had suggested that the judges request.

No one will dispute the fact that the judges have the final say in the operation of the court. And most people would probably accept their conclusion that a night court is unnecessary if the three judges were not being so arrogant, touchy and closeminded about the subject. Their attitude leaves us with the feeling that an independent study of the night court idea wouldn't be so totally irrelevant after all.

A similar situation exists in connection with a proposed pre-trial release program (which the municipal court and the Lincoln Bar Association favor) for the Lincoln jail facility. Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll reportedly is opposed to the idea and also reportedly carries enough weight in the State Crime Commission to quash an application for federal money to fund the program. The program is ready to be put in motion but Carroll will not give it his go-ahead, claiming not to be informed of the particulars and claiming that a similar program has not worked well in Omaha. That latter contention has been challenged.

We'll repeat our view that it shouldn't be too difficult for the chief to become acquainted with the details of the proposed pre-trial release program. And as for Omaha's experience — if that is really pertinent to the Lincoln situation — it should be easy to quickly obtain several opinions from Omaha people close to the program. There is no justification for foot-dragging.

What is apparent is that the court and Chief Carroll each are interested in protecting their own bailiwicks, they resent advice no matter how well-intentioned and they oppose any change that would disrupt the everyday scheme of things.

The proposed night court and pre-trial release program are, however, designed for the convenience of the public, not for the judges and police, and the public should demand that the proposals receive a full and fair hearing.

Contribution Traced

Did the Lincoln Electric System's contribution to the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce industrial development effort help finance a political battle this spring?

The answer apparently is no, but the City Council is still not satisfied with the chamber's bookkeeping in connection with the matter.

The electric system contributed $25,000 last year to the chamber's industrial development fund and the council wanted assurance that none of that money was used by the chamber this spring to fight approval at the polls of Amendment No. 2, the so-called Northeast Radial amendment which set out street building and planning guidelines.

The latest answer from the chamber listed those firms which contributed to the successful anti-Amendment 2 fight and Chamber President Glenn Bonacker further said that all monies received from LES for last year had been expended before the charter amendment battle and that the 1973 contribution had not been received.

It's important, of course, that no city money — whether from taxes or utility revenue — find its way into a political contest. That's illegal and unethical.

It will be necessary for the council, in approving future LES contributions to the industrial development fund, to demand a strict accounting of the money.

Demos Slip In Numbers

WASHINGTON — Even before Congress left this unhappy capital for its summer recess, there were growing signs that many Democrats were beginning to be concerned about the anti-Watergate backlash against their party. Now it turns out that their fears were well grounded. Late July and early August telephone poll data from Sindlinger and Company of Swarthmore, Pa., sketch an almost unbelievable drop in the willingness of voters to identify themselves as Democrats.

Earlier Sindlinger data, published in October-November, 1972, and March-April, 1973, showed the adverse impact of the early Watergate disclosures on the GOP. Voter willingness to identify with the Grand Old Party plummeted to new lows — just 22% of the national electorate in April, 1973, in contrast to almost 30% in August, 1972. But now it is the Democrats who are coming apart at the seams, apparently in response to growing public indignation about the politics, hypocrisy and media abuses of the Watergate investigation.

Between late April and early August, pollster Sindlinger undertook a series of surveys aimed at establishing how people characterize their political preference: Democratic, Republican, Independent or Not Interested in Politics and Don't Vote. His data show the Democrats holding up rather well until late July, when the bottom began to fall out.

Numbers bore people; they lack pizzazz. Even so, there is no substitute for the raw poll statistics of the Democratic slump. They are, in a word, incredible. So here are the percentages of the sample calling themselves Democrats, and the consequent projection of that percentage into numbers of voters. Between April 30 and May 6, 38% of the Sindlinger sample called themselves Democrats, for a projected national voter total of 52.4 million. Between June 7 and June 13, 36% called themselves Democrats (50.1 million U.S. voters). Then, from June 29 to July 2, 35% of those polled chose the Democratic label, a projected 48.2 million voters. Thus, from April to early July, the Democrats maintained party strength far above the GOP. Thanks to Watergate, Democratic identification was higher than in most of the Sindlinger surveys taken during the summer and fall of 1972.

But as July wore on, the tide turned. John Dean's testimony was disputed. Spring headlines incriminating President Nixon were not supported or justified. National security began to come into the debate, with Senator Ervin and the Watergate committee lining up on the side of Daniel Ellsberg and the liberal media. Public sourness toward the committee began to mushroom. Talk of McCarthyism grew. Information on previous Democratic campaign espionage began to come out, and increasing mention was heard of Democratic hypocrisy and an anti-Nixon vendetta. From July 20-23, only 32% of Sindlinger's sample chose the Democratic label (45.2 million projected voters).

Then between July 24 and 27, the percentage plummeted to 29% (40.2 million voters), and from July 28 to August 3, the bottom fell out; only 26% of the 2,200 voter sample called themselves Democrats (36.8 million projected voters). This 26% figure is the lowest ratio of Democratic support Sindlinger has ever recorded, some 7% below the worst level of the McGovern campaign.

☆ ☆ ☆

At this point, it is vital to add that the shift has not gone to the Republicans. The GOP has continued to slip, reaching just 18% in July — also a historic low — and staying there through August. Instead, the alienated Democrats have shifted into the "Independent" and "No Interest-Don't Vote" category. The Independent group has swollen from 29% in April to 34%, and the "No Interest Don't Vote bloc has mushroomed from 12% in April to 22% in August. For the first time in Sindlinger's polling, identification with the two major parties is under 50%.

Perhaps this alienation and disgust with U.S. politics will ebb, and earlier ratios will reassert themselves, but I doubt it. The heavy Democratic slippage is coming in the South and among Northern ethnics, exactly the area of previous ideological weakness. On one hand, Watergate may simply be shattering the old party system. Alternatively, it may be that the actions of the Ervin committee and the media in the Watergate vendetta have done what the McGovern nomination could not — convince conservative Democrats how irretrievably their party has slipped into the hands of the elite media types and Daniel Ellsberg fans.

By J. RATLIFF
Lincoln, Neb.

I am surprised and somewhat chagrined that no one has sent kudos to William O. Dobler for his incisive analysis on county government in his editorial, "In Perspective," on August 1. To zero in on county government is to provide an essential service to the people of this county, for ultimately they must decide what is to be done about this two-headed monster known as county government.

But we know it will be a long time before the people become so completely disenchanted that they will be motivated to make a change. This rationale is realistic in view of past history. On the other hand, a practical solution to the problem is available now.

At least, in my judgment, it is practical, possible and desirable to reach an interim solution now, realizing, of course, the long-term solution will require the change in some state laws that dictate what county government can do.

All the resources essential for good and efficient government are available in the county now, both in terms of human and material resources. The solution lies in the utilization of those resources along with the exercise of leadership, reasonable judgment and discipline. The main problem in government is people who are elected or appointed to positions of responsibility, authority and public trust. All too often these people lose sight of the fact that the function of government is to provide services that the people are not otherwise capable of providing for themselves. A natural human tendency is to build little cells of power and authority that are self-serving without regard to the best interests of the public. These officials think they have a mandate to do as they please and in each instance, they individually make a conscious choice. Those who defy the orders, wishes or desires of the County Board are making that choice and should be held accountable for their actions.

County government is a two-headed monster only because the people involved choose to make it so. Order can be restored out of this chaos now with a little restructuring of the system. For example, the budget confusion could be laid to rest now and for all time by instituting a line item budget which would show what is to be spent for what purpose. After that is accomplished, the first time a department head exceeds the approved budget in any area, the money is cut off. Now, isn't that quite simple?

Secondly, county government needs a full-time executive, administrator, director or whatever one chooses to call the position. This can be accomplished now simply by action of the County Board. This action is clearly legal under their authority as the executive and legislative branch of county government. This action if taken would permit the County Board to concentrate on fulfilling their executive and legislative functions for which elected to office and to provide the leadership needed to restore public confidence in county government. Moreover, it could be an orderly process without the obvious adversary roles being taken on every issue.

The day-to-day operation of government should be delegated to a person skilled in administrative procedures, with executive ability, experience in government, with demonstrated intelligence and reason and with the leadership capability to shape up the people in county government, to pull them together as a team working toward a common goal of providing services to the people of this county. If teamwork cannot be developed with the people in county government with a disciplined approach to problem-solving, then county government is relegated to the role of more of the same.

The restructuring of county government now would pose no threat to any official, either elective or appointive, but, rather, would force him to do the job he should be doing now. Who would object to that? Certainly not the people who are paying for efficient government without being subjected to a continuous stream of petty bickering. People with good intentions will have differing views on a single issue but that doesn't alter the fact that once a decision is made, everyone is expected to support the decision to insure that the goal is accomplished.

If government is to function, it is the people who must get things accomplished. Decisions must be made in every facet of government and those decisions must be supervised to execution. When that is done, goal or mission accomplishment becomes a reality. In another sense, people who are being paid to do a job are indeed causing the business of government to function on behalf of the people. Nothing less should be acceptable or tolerated.

Department heads of county government who are openly insubordinate and defiant of the County Board should apply the same criteria to their subordinates. If this criteria were extended to all county employes, it would result in a complete adversary system with the business of government coming to a screeching halt. The end result would produce nothing but wasted energy. Now, the people don't expect this nor would they tolerate such very long and neither would county department heads.

This is the time for people to speak out and let the County Board know that they are expected to initiate changes now within their own authority to eliminate this two-headed monster in county government. Also, let them know that another study is not part of the solution. Action now — any action will lead toward a solution that would be better than the situation existing in county government today.

It would be totally unfair to close without commending the many loyal and dedicated county officials and employes who labor diligently to make county government what it should be to fulfill the public trust.

Letters To The Editor

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by the writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. ### Lincoln Teachers

Lincoln, Neb.

It is irritating, having had three children in the Lincoln public school system for the past 15 years, to see an outsider come in and in one month determine that we have such a pathetic "pay system" for teachers. I am sure Mr. Peterson is a very experienced person, because he has had so many jobs in his 37 years, or perhaps he is inexperienced or he would not have so many changes.

The majority of teachers are not available in the summer, so I don't see where he has acquired so much knowledge and information as to the quality of teachers in Lincoln. I wonder if he realizes that almost every teacher in the city of Lincoln has full-time assistance from various colleges, and present-day teachers are more of an executive than a teacher.

He mentions the quality of teachers. The majority of teachers in the city of Lincoln are exceedingly fine people and strive to do a good job. However, I am sure if one were to check the police records and juvenile records, he would find we also have rotten apples in the barrel. I for one resent this arrogant young man's coming to Lincoln and in a 30-day period "shooting off his mouth," when he really has not been in Lincoln long enough to know what he is talking about.

I also resent The Lincoln Star's giving this individual nearly a quarter of the front page, but it does run with the general text of the quality of newspaper we have.

New School Head

Lincoln, Neb.

Lincoln public school educators and parents as well should be extremely pleased with the selection of Robert Peterson as the new executive director of the Lincoln Education Association. Mr. Peterson comes to Lincoln with a wealth of experience, and has indeed proven his ability to solve problems and to deal effectively with school officials and government as well.

His comment that teacher salaries here are "pathetically low" and that there are virtually no fringe benefits in existence now for teachers hits the nail squarely on the head.

He also mentions that Lincoln administrators have done a poor job of evaluating teachers and that they have a responsibility to "weed out" any teacher who is not qualified. Administrators must also take a close look at themselves to determine those who are not capable of being in administration, or who are not performing their duties effectively. There are teachers and administrators as well who do not belong in any school system.

Lincoln does have excellent schools and in order to maintain this standard and to make continued improvements, teachers must be adequately compensated for the sacrifices they have made and will continue to make for the benefit of our great city and state.

Mr. Peterson will need the enthusiastic support of every teacher and citizen in Lincoln in order to accomplish his goals. Let's all get behind him!

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

The Lancaster County chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to thank the citizens of Lancaster County, the newspapers and the radio and television stations for their support of the recent emergency fund drive for the victims of disaster this spring and early summer.

The final report was $5,933.61 raised on a goal of $9,420.00, or 62.9%. This money was raised for expenditures beyond the normal Red Cross disaster costs.

We deeply appreciate this support for Red Cross disaster services. The money has been forwarded to the National Red Cross Disaster Fund and will be used for the victims of the record-breaking 81 natural disasters that occurred this spring.

High Prices

Lincoln, Neb.

This business of prices that get higher and higher is the most ridiculous thing the American public has had to put up with in a long time. I'm beginning to think maybe part of the situation comes in an effort to use scare tactics to get people to overbuy.

We'll hear a rumor that this is going to be scarce and that is going to soon be unavailable. So what do we do? We rush out and buy up a year's supply.

Little frying chickens that used to sell for a dollar and less are now priced about $2.50 and will probably go higher. I even notice that the portions in restaurants are getting smaller while the price gets higher.

Exon Suggests Peace Through Food

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Gov. J. James Exon said Tuesday that youth must accept the responsibility of maintaining the family unit, and predicted that their families will play an important part in solving world food problems in "this great food basket," Nebraska.

He made the remarks addressing about 125 delegates to the 13th annual Nebraska Conference of Youth in Lincoln.

"You're not going to be a success in whatever you do unless you become an important part of the family unit," Exon said. "Always be progressive. Seek new ideas and new ideals."

The governor challenged the youth to "keep seeking the road to eventual world peace.

'We Have Failed'

"We have failed, I suggest to you, as the older generation," Exon said and implored the youth to "be more successful than we have been. The record is there. I don't think you could possibly do a worse job."

He talked about the energy crisis and problems facing the dollar. "As serious as that is, it pales when you consider the potential food shortage we have in the world today."

In an obvious reference to Communist Party leader Leonid Brezhnev, Exon said "the Russion bear" was "here on his knees, although it was never accurately reported that way. He was here because he needed food."

"We can raise food better and cheaper and faster than anyplace else in the world," Exon said. "This great food basket is going to be more important" in solving the world's food problems.

"You have a legitimate power at your disposal," he told the youth, "this power to raise food which can be shipped all over the world."

Food Said Answer

He suggested that America has relied on military and economic strengths too long and said, "I wonder whether in the future we should rely on the power we have, to do a better job to produce food." That, he said, is the answer to world peace.

Turning to politics, Exon said, "The only thing that is wrong (with the system) is that people do not pay enough attention to their government and to the officials elected to serve them."

The governor said the youth should be dismayed and forlorn about recent political events, but he said whenever things go wrong, "blame yourself and those around you. Be ever vigilant in the process."

The three-day conference, sponsored by the Nebraska Council of Youth and the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth, ended Tuesday.

The delegates — from all over Nebraska — were selected by local officials in their home towns.

Council chairman Priscilla L. Raasch of Lincoln said the conference goal was "to get people to come together to establish councils of youth in the local communities." The councils work on community projects and services, providing "a bridge between the community, youth and adults," she said.

Donna J. Hays of Omaha, outgoing chairman of the Nebraska Council of Youth, announced new officers for the coming year:

Don H. Ehly of Sutton, chairman; Landis Magnuson of Lincoln, vice chairman; Joe Nye of Kearney and Joan Gustafson of Wakefield, secretaries; Eric Carstenson of Grand Island, treasurer, and Jeff Hunzeker of Sutton, public relations.

Fair Officials Sign BS&T, L. Ronstadt

Two new acts have been signed to appear at the State Fair to replace an act which canceled last week, fair officials said Tuesday.

Blood, Sweat and Tears, plus singer Linda Ronstadt, will replace the Doobie Brothers as headliners on the grandstand show opening night of the fair, Aug. 31.

The Doobie Brothers canceled last week due to the illness of a lead singer, according to fair officials.

Swanson Lake Victim Man From Menlo, Kan.

Trenton (AP) — Authorities have identified a Kansas man who drowned in Swanson Lake Monday while his wife and six children watched from the shore, unable to save his life.

Hitchcock County authorities said the victim was Charles Ballman, 41, of Menlo, Kan.

His body was recovered Tuesday afternoon.

Ballman was trying to retrieve a pair of water skis when he accidentally hit the throttle of the boat he was in, and the force of the increased speed knocked him into the water. He apparently hit his head on the boat as he fell, and was knocked unconscious.

Authorities dragged the lake for several hours Monday, and resumed the search early Tuesday.

Ballman and his family were vacationing at the lake.

June Inventories Up

Train Wrecks Probed

Philadelphia (UPI) — The FBI is investigating the possibility that two train derailments in the Penn Central Railroad's suburban station may have been caused deliberately.

Omaha Pre-Trial Release Plan Working

Deputy Omaha Police Chief Walter Devere Tuesday said that a pre-trial release program that has been in existence there for three years appears to be "fairly successful."

Devere's statement appears to contradict a statement Lincoln Police Chief Joseph Carroll has been attributing to Omaha Police Chief Richard Andersen for the last two months.

As recently as Monday night before the City Council Carroll said Andersen told him that the Omaha program "was not working worth a darn."

Tuesday, however, Devere said he would term the Omaha program successful. "We don't even notice it any more," he said.

Andersen was out of town Tuesday.

Devere said that the Omaha Police Department had been skeptical when the program was first established, but he indicated the department has decided that the program provides a needed function.

A law student working with the program, Marc Jonas, also contradicted Chief Carroll's statements Tuesday.

Jonas said Carroll was "definitely not correct" in saying that the Omaha program is "not worth a darn." In fact, Jonas said, Omaha police are cooperating with the program there, even to the point of calling workers when they believe they are holding a suspect who would qualify for release.

Jonas said that so far this year a total of 163 persons have been released without bond.

Kennedy Is Bound Over

Paul L. Kennedy, 23, charged in connection with the July 3 shotgun slaying of John Vajgrt of Crete, Tuesday waived preliminary hearing on two charges and was bound over to District Court.

Kennedy is charged with first degree murder and murder in the perpetration of a robbery. Both charges carry the death penalty.

Kennedy was arrested by Lancaster County sheriff's deputies July 21 as he was driving on a Crete street. Vajgrt's body, shot four times with a 12-gauge shotgun was found on the Olive Creek Lake dam by fishermen.

Corn, Soybeans, U.S. Money New To Canadians

By CYNTHIA JOHNSON
Star Staff Writer

Valerie Charteris

Corn, soybeans and American currency have one common denominator — at least, so it seemed to Valerie Charteris of Kerrobert, Saskatchewan, who spent one week this month in Nebraska as one of the participants in a 4-H exchange program.

She noted that the three above items were among the "new experiences" encountered by herself and about 30 other Canadian young people who visited in Lancaster County.

Of the trip to Nebraska, she said: "The first thing we noticed was the corn and soybeans," further explaining that those crops are not grown in the area of Canada with which she is familiar.

Speaking with just a tinge of a British accent, the 16-year-old Valerie also commented about the difficulties she and her fellow travelers had when using American money.

"Most of us didn't like your money. We couldn't tell it apart."

But she found similarities between her native country and the United States as well. Describing the Americans she had met as "friendly" she stated, "The people are the same."

Valerie lives with her family on a farm near Kerrobert, where her father raises beef cattle and crops such as wheat, oats and barley.

She and the other youngsters' trip to Nebraska resulted from an exchange program which began last year. At that time, a number of Lancaster county 4-H members traveled to Canada; and this summer, an equivalent number of Canadian 4-H'ers were chosen to take part in a reciprocal visit.

As Valerie put it, the purpose of the exchange, as far as the Canadians were concerned, was "to find out what the States are like, and what 4-H is like here."

Among the things she discovered was that the American standard of living is similar to that enjoyed in Canada. And although "the houses are bigger" here, she found that the farms are about the same size.

She also had a good opportunity to learn about the 4-H program in the U.S., because during her stay she was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Melichar of Emerald, whose daughters have taken part in 4-H for several years.

Valerie, who has been a 4-H member for seven years, is currently taking the Horse, and Junior Leader projects through her local club.

When asked if Canada was experiencing the same problems with food shortages as the U. S., she replied, "It's the same in Canada as in the States, and prices are very high."

Although there is no tax on food in Canada, she explained that the high costs are due to the fact that the government has not established any price controls.

"We have no freeze on prices, so they just keep going up."

She also commented on another current American concern — Watergate. "We thought we'd hear more about Watergate," she said, adding that Canadian television viewers see just about as much of the hearings as Americans.

"Half our programs are cancelled because of it," she continued.

The young Canadian, who would like to go into recreational technology when she is through high school, participated in a number of group activities during her stay. She and the other youngsters enjoyed tours of the State Historical Society, Morrill Hall, the State Capitol Building and Sheldon Art Gallery, as well as taking part in a picnic at Pioneers' Park and a swimming party.

She observed that she wouldn't mind living in this part of the United States — although she qualified that by stating that she "really likes Canada."

However, the final verdict on her visit here was rendered when she was asked if there was anything in particular that she had enjoyed.

"Everything," she responded.

Is Intermarriage Foe Prejudiced?

dear abby

DEAR ABBY: I was brought up (and I brought my own children up) to "be friends with everybody, but to marry your own kind."

Would you consider this prejudice?

I have respect for all religions and colors, and have friends of all denominations, but I do not condone or believe in intermarriage. I try to find the good in the individual, regardless of color, creed or origin. Marriage is difficult enough without the problems intermarriage presents.

Would you please give me your opinion?

NOT PREJUDICED

DEAR NOT: I agree, marriage IS difficult, and marrying one's "own kind" may possibly reduce the number of problems. (It may not.) But I believe in the right of every adult to marry whomever he wants. Were you to bring up your children to try to find the good in the individual, regardless of color, creed or origin, and respect his right to make his own choice, then I would say you were not prejudiced.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has earned a Ph.D. in psychology, and it took him 10 years of hard work to do it.

Recently at a party a woman said, "My brother in law is a doctor — a REAL one." I felt like I had been slapped in the face.

Why do some people think that unless a person is a medical doctor, he isn't a "real one?"

I am angry with myself for not having set that woman straight, but what could I have said?

Please print this, Abby, so others won't make the same mistake.

GALLED IN GALVESTON

DEAR GALLED: You could have said, "My husband is also a 'REAL' doctor. He's a doctor of psychology." (P.S. Ignorance is no mistake.)

By LINDA OLIG
Star Staff Writer

I'm Scoopie, the Roseate Spoonbill (Ajaia ajaja).

My friend Rosy and I reside on Flamingo Island here at the Children's Zoo. But where they ever got the name 'island' I'll never know — it's more of a peninsula.

But one thing's for certain. I know where they got our names.

Rosy is called that because we Spoonbills have rose-colored wings and bodies. Our heads and necks are white.

And my name comes from our particular method of gathering food. With our spoon-shaped bills aiding us, we swish those filtered beaks in the water until we have caught enough teeny-tiny fish to please our tummies. Then we swallow our find.

Our home of Flamingo Island is shared with several other tropical birds of North America and two birds from similar backgrounds in West Africa.

Our island-mates are the North American Flamingos (Phoenicopteras ruber), the North American Wood Storks (Mycteria americana), and the West African Crowned Cranes (Balearica pavonia).

The Flamingos are our kissin' cousins. With us they hail from the Everglades and other areas of tropical America.

They are those delicately coral colored birds known for their long legs and graceful movements. But take a hint from me, they aren't graceful all the time. I, for one, have seen them trip and slip on the rocks many times and go splashing in the water.

To keep their beautiful coloration from fading, they are fed enormous amounts of carotene (from carrot oil) and Vitamin A.

All of us are wading birds. Our relatives the Flamingos get a little extra help in finding food. They have extremely long legs. And their toes knead the bottom, stirring up the minute, shrimplike crustaceans which are their favorite taste treats.

STAFF PHOTO BY FRANK VARGA

VERY CAREFULLY . . . the Flamingo stands on one thin leg while he stretches his neck to the ground for a blade of grass.

With their specialized beaks, they filter out the tiny animals. They take in the fluid, then close their beaks, pushing the water out, but keeping the food in the filter.

The Wood Storks have a different manner of eating, probably due to their long, razor-sharp bills which make it easier for them to capture snakes and small mammals. So it's no wonder they are called predatory birds, with diets of meat and more meat.

When the Wood Storks sleep, they sometimes resemble the Flamingos who draw one leg up close to their bodies and bury their heads in their wings. But in the wilds, their sleeping habits sometimes resemble that of my relatives, the Spoonbills. All of us love to roost high in the trees, or even in steeples.

The Woodstorks have long, off-white bodies with black wing tips.

Perhaps the most distinctive birds on Flamingo Island are the West African Crowned Cranes who have striking black and white bodies topped off by gold crowns which look like wire brushes. Their cheeks are a beautiful pink.

They are the national birds of Uganda where they eat small reptiles and snakes as well as some of the natural vegetation.

The Crowned Cranes living here are a mated pair. And it's really fun to watch the male go through his mating dance. He hops, skips, jumps and dances around the female.

In spite of our differences the four varieties of birds here have more than the island in common. All of us except the Wood Storks have long, skinny legs and webbed feet. The Wood Storks have straight toes.

Our diets consist of packaged shrimp ground up with lettuce, bread, fish meal, and vitamins.

Plus we have interesting glands located in our wing joints (our elbows) and at the base of our tails. Those glands contain oil which helps to keep our feathers smooth. But the oil does more than that. It keeps us dry and keeps us buoyant so we won't sink when we go for a swim.

Opening lead - two of hearts.

Some plays are completely ignored solely because there is a natural aversion to making them. But when a situation demands an unnatural play, declarer should not willingly dodge his responsibility.

South was in three notrump and got a heart lead. He played the jack from dummy and allowed East's king to win. The ten of hearts was likewise ducked, but declarer won the next heart with the ace.

After cashing the king of diamonds, he entered dummy with a club and led the A-Q of diamonds. When the suit failed to divide evenly, South ended with only his seven high-card tricks and went down two.

The flaw in South's play was that he banked virtually all his hopes on a 3-3 diamond division. Ordinarily, this division occurs in only 36 per cent of hands dealt. South's method of play thus made him a nearly 2 to 1 underdog.

After South took the ace of hearts, he should then have played the king of diamonds and overtaken it with the ace! Next, after cashing the queen—and particularly if the jack or ten appeared—he could continue with the nine.

In the actual deal, with West's ten falling on the queen, five diamond tricks would have matured and South would have scored the game.

The suggested line of play is far superior to the one South actually chose. It makes the contract not only when the diamonds are 3-3, but also when the suit breaks 4-2 and the player with the doubleton has the jack or ten.

It elevates declarer's chances of making five diamond tricks to almost 2 to 1, since a doubleton honor will be dealt to one defender or the other 29 times in 100 deals.

ACTION LINE

DIAL 477-2121

Or Write P.O. Box 81669, Lincoln, NE 68501

What possibility is there of the city placing a crossing light for senior citizens at 47th and Randolph?

—Mrs. J. H., York

ACTION LINE: The chances are slim.

Bob Holsinger, city traffic engineer, said the fact there is a light just a block away would place this location in a low slot on the priority list.

Holsinger said if a request is made, his department will evaluate the request, and place it on the priority list for next year.

However he said there are always more requests than funds for new lights.

There are two trees at 2915 South 12th St. that have Dutch Elm Disease. We have called the City, but no one has come to remove the trees. Will ACTION LINE find out what the holdup is?

—G. Y., Lincoln

ACTION LINE: Wayne Willmeng, city forrester, said his department is running several hundred trees behind because the disease has become so common.

Willmeng noted that if the trees are not presenting an imminent danger it may be some time before they're removed.

However he noted that all the trees from last year have been cleaned up, and the trees this year will be removed before the beginning of the new season. He said Omaha crews are still working on last year's cleanup.

The outside telephone buzzer for the 70th and Adams St. Apco Station has been causing some noise problems in our neighborhood. Can ACTION LINE restore peace and tranquility at our neighborhood?

—Light Sleeper, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: The problem is solved, and unless you're an insomniac you should be getting more sleep.

Bill Peterson, the firm's owner, said the problem has been the gasoline shortage, forcing the station to close early, and leaving no one on duty to answer the phone.

Peterson assured ACTION LINE a new procedure has been instituted, and the buzzer will be turned off each night when the station closes.

A friend of mine recently returned from a trip to Albany, N.Y., and he claims there is a service called dial-a-poem. If this is true, would ACTION LINE find some information about it?

—Local Bard, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: It's true, and the service is run by a gentleman named Mike Rutherford, who not-surprisingly is an Albany area poet.

Rutherford said the poems are held to a minute in length, and are changed every four days. The program has been in existence for more than three years, and although there are well-known New York poets used, most are local unknowns.

Rutherford is always happy to receive poems to be used for the service. They can be mailed to him at 450 Western Avenue, Albany, N.Y.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Question to famous and wealthy Cancer man "How much money does a person need to live in this world?" His reply: "A little more."

☆ ☆ ☆

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You have more on your side than might be apparent by surface indications. What happens at special, behind-scenes meeting holds answer. You will be vindicated if impulsive action is avoided. Utilize lessons learned in recent past.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): What seemed like a "sure thing" needs revision. Be patient. Leave no loose ends. Friend who offers advice lacks necessary information. Don't hang on to losing proposition. Pride should not be permitted to block progress.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): One at top may be tied up in legal mess. Know it and plan accordingly. Depending too much on promises would be error. See situation as it exists. Fine contact will brighten your life. Be open to vital suggestion. Leo, Aquarius persons might be involved.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Study Aries message. Take time to perceive long-range prospects. Don't give up something of value for mere sensation. You can teach and learn. One who seems concerned is sincere. Be receptive without being gullible.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Highlight versatility. There is more than one way to achieve goal. Know it and act accordingly. Sagittarius, Gemini persons figure prominently. Accent is on money needed to cement transaction. Protect interests.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Be thorough. Wait for information — discard hearsay. Legal procedures require meticulous care — don't rush. Aquarius, Leo, Scorpio persons could be in picture. What you need may temporarily be withheld. But ultimate success is indicated.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): New, more creative approach to health, work questions may be overdue. Open dialogue with vibrant, slightly unorthodox person who has been vying for your attention. If you are a good listener, you will learn and benefit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Love, understanding can be achieved if you give yourself half a chance. Family member could play key role. Taurus, Libra persons are likely to be involved. Don't attempt to buy approval. Instead, earn what you get — and you can obtain plenty during this cycle.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may be drawn in two directions. One path sees you taking necessary and practical steps. The other course finds you a victim of wishful thinking. Obviously, it now is more necessary than usual to face facts about property, costs, joint efforts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You may be surprised as result of special, closed-door meeting. Key now is to maintain dignity, aplomb. You are being tested. Applies to both professional and personal life. Older individual wants to know if you can take on additional responsibility.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Friend could make move which is costly — to you. Avoid becoming inextricably involved. Refuse to be "leaned on" by one who is trying to get out of legitimate obligation. Insist on collateral. Know your own worth.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Individual who has position of authority may be confused. Be independent. State views and requirements. Make meanings crystal clear. Leo, Aquarius persons might figure in prominent roles. Adhere to basic principles.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are musical, artistic, have unusual voice, tend to go overboard where sweets are concerned, draw to you many born under Libra and Taurus. October will be one of your most significant months of this year. You are affectionate, somewhat selfish or self-centered, but basically generous as long as spotlight doesn't leave you for too long a time.

(Discover your love and money mates! Send birthdate (for our survey) and 75 cents to Omarr Astrology Secrets, (name of your paper), Box 3240, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017. You'll find answer in Sydney Omarr's booklet, "Secret Hints for Men and Women.")

County Board Acts On Two Subdivisions

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday denied one application for a subdivision permit, while approving a second.

In a brief business session, the board turned down C. C. Smith's request to divide a ten-acre tract into three lots, at SW 108th, between Pine Lake Rd. and Old Cheney Rd.

Planner Rodger Harris reported that the planning department recommended denial of the plan because the dimensions of the lots exceed the height-width ratio set out in the subdivision ordinance. Harris suggested a compromise solution calling for an adjustment of the lots.

County Board Chairman Robert Colin pointed out that Smith could re-submit his application with the revised plan.

The board approved a subdivision permit applied for by Eugene Pierce for a one-plus acre tract in southern Lancaster County, located near Hwy. 43 and just north of the southern county boundary line.

The board also directed County Atty. Paul Douglas to draw up a resolution allowing county employes to participate in a deferred compensation retirement plan.

The request came from Deputy County Sheriff Bill Greiner, who told the commissioners that the County Employes Association Retirement Committee favors the measure.

In further action the board:

—Approved a tax refund for Edward Tomkiewiecz for $70.68.

—Approved a tax boucher for Brainards Service Co. and for Fred Fisher Estate.

—Approved setting official bonds for Diana Bloss and Stephen Yungblut, deputy county attorneys.

—Directed the county clerk to publish notice to bridge contractors on constructing a bridge north of Hallam, over Salt Creek.

—Accepted apparent low bid of Abel Investment Co. for $100,314.36 for resurfacing project near Hwy. 2 and So. 56th. Dobson Brothers Construction big $100,726.29 on the project.

Trabert: Deputy Would Take Over

Retiring County Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert told the Welfare Board Tuesday that if the director's position has not been filled by Aug. 31, Don Williamson, assistant administrator, will assume the duties as acting director.

Trabert told the three county commissioners that he has always had "great faith and respect for the role our agency has played in developing what I feel is the most outstanding public welfare program in Nebraska."

In a memorandum to the commissioners, Trabert said, "I have been fortunate in working within the field of public welfare," adding that he is pleased with the welfare program over the past 37 years.

He has been employed by Lancaster County for the last nine years. He will retire Aug. 31.

In other business, Commissioner Jan Gauger called for a reassessment of the county's food relief payment programs.

She noted that spiraling food prices and inflation are taking larger chunks out of everyone's paychecks and questioned whether the county had budgeted enough funds to meet that increase.

"We have an obligation to make sure those families (on welfare) have enough to eat," Gauger said.

Keith County Schools Upheld

U.S. District Judge Warren K. Urbom has ruled that the Keith County School Board does not have to reinstate a teacher whose contract was not renewed at the end of the last term.

James K. Moore had contended that his constitutional rights were violated by the board's action. The board said it terminated Moore because of neglect of duty.

ETV Budget Request Shows 4% Increase

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday adopted a 1974-75 legislative appropriations request that proposes an increase in regular operational funds of about 4%.

In addition, the ETV Commission repeated an unfunded 1973-74 request of $198,900 to pay production costs for the Nebraska Educational Television Council for Higher Education (NETCHE) and asked for $76,815 to continue special programming for the elderly.

The total regular operational request totaled $1,993,320, up 4.13% from the current year's $1,914,335. With the two additions, the request will total $2,269,035.

Most of the increases in the regular operational budget were the result of plans to boost salaries for most nonprofessional employes by 5% and professional salaries 6%.

A cost-of-living increase of 3% for most goods purchased was also built in.

The NETCHE funding would replace a loss of federal funds which had been used by the higher education council to produce programs shared by 17 Nebraska colleges and universities.

A similar amount was requested last year, and the Legislature's Appropriations Committee had approved a proposal to fund about $99,000 worth of higher education instructional materials.

But when the Legislature adopted Gov. J. James Exon's budget in the closing days of the session, that appropriation fell by the wayside.

The NETCHE budget is also supported by contributions from the member institutions, but the ETV Commission was told that without legislative appropriations NETCHE has been forced to cut to the bone its production of new instructional courses.

The funds for the programming on the elderly would permit continuation of a statewide ETV information service for older Nebraskans. That service is to begin in November, funded with a $58,000 grant from the Nebraska Commission on Aging.

In a related matter, the ETV Commission approved amendments to the current fiscal year budget restoring more than $51,000 in previous cuts, largely for equipment purchases.

The cuts had been made to permit raising technician and engineer salaries to levels comparable to those paid by commercial stations.

The funds were restored, according to Assistant Manager Paul Few, because of a one-time "lucky gift" which reduces for this year only the building rent payment to the City of Lincoln, bondholder for the ETV Building.

The windfall resulted from accumulation of interest on reserves and the calling of some bonds.

Operators Walk Off NPPD Job

SUTHERLAND, Neb. (AP)—Ninety operating engineers walked off the job at the Nebraska Public Power District's Gerald Gentleman Power Station near Sutherland Tuesday morning.

Ron Bogus, public information supervisor for NPPD, said the walkout occurred about 10 a.m. It apparently stemmed from the refusal of one engineer to operate equipment owned by Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Boise, Idaho, he said.

Morrison-Knudsen was awarded the $7.1 million contract for site preparation work.

Bogus said pickets were set up on a road leading to the site on the south edge of the Sutherland Reservoir.

He also said 120 operating engineers scheduled for the 3:30 p.m. shift failed to show up.

It was reported that an official of the operating engineers union from Omaha was on the scene trying to negotiate a settlement with Morrison-Knudsen.

Bogus said he had no idea how long the walkout would last.

Work has been conducted around the clock at the site and according to company estimates, about 15 per cent of the preparation work has been completed.

End Of Bombing To Be Marked

Nebraskans for Peace will sponsor a "quiet thanksgiving" Wednesday evening on the State Capitol steps to mark the end of the bombing of Cambodia by American warplanes.

"We are grateful that this irrational, irresponsible activity is being stopped," said Marita Heller, coordinator of Nebraskans for Peace. "We want to acknowledge this milestone and assess where we are now."

The ceremony will be held on the north steps of the Capitol.

Two Additions Scheduled For Point System

Starting Sept. 2, two additions will be made to the Nebraska motor vehicle point system, John L. Sullivan, director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles, reminded motorists Tuesday.

If a person has his license revoked under the point system twice within five years, the length of the second revocation will be three years.

The system now provides that any driver accumulating 12 or more points within two years shall have his operator's license revoked for one year.

The second change is that anyone who has had his license revoked under the point system must attend and successfully complete a defensive driving course approved by the Department of Motor Vehicles before the license can be reinstated.

Energy Allocation Law To Go Into Effect

State Tax Commissioner William E. Peters has been directed by Gov. J. James Exon to implement recent energy allocation legislation.

In effect, the governor told Peters to proceed with plans to carry out legislation regulating the distribution and allocation of all forms of energy.

An informal meeting of representatives of energy suppliers for discussion of proposed regulations was set for Aug. 29.

The legislation, LB587, prohibits preferences in the distribution of gasoline, natural gas and electricity by suppliers.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, was aimed especially at preventing suppliers from shutting off independent firms.

In a statement, Exon said that the fuel situation is critical and that "rhetoric and assurances are of little comfort when a tractor doesn't start, an irrigation well shuts down and heating fuel requirements this fall remain questionable."

The governor added: "We need a national energy policy and action now."

But he said this has not been brought into being so the state will do everything in its power to meet the immediate problems confronting it.

School Meal Hikes Postponed

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Although food costs are bound to go up this fall in the Lincoln Public Schools, the Board of Education Tuesday decided to hold off any meal price increases until actual experience indicates a trend.

School is set to begin Aug. 27, when thousands of youngsters will again expect a noon meal in school buildings.

Associate Supt. Robert Den Hartog told the board that the schools have, at the most, about two weeks' supply of meat on hand and no word yet on how much if any meat will be available after that.

Cost of red meat is uncertain, he said, while the price of fish has risen 100% in the last year.

Holding Off

Despite those warnings, however, Supt. John Prasch said he was holding off recommending price increases for school lunches until "we see our experience this fall."

Elementary youngsters now pay 40 cents for their noontime meals.

The board was told that with elimination of a federal subsidy for extra milk purchases, an extra half-pint will cost schoolchildren eight cents this fall, rather than the subsidized four cents charged last year.

One carton of milk will continue to be provided with the Type A meal, however.

In a related matter, the board directed Den Hartog to proceed with plans to enter the milk delivery business for the schools if two trucks can be ready for the start of school.

Den Hartog said it will cost the schools an extra $48,000 to have milk delivered by the supplier. He said he's convinced the schools can do their own deliveries at less cost.

In other matters at the regular board session, Supt. Prasch said most construction and remodeling projects will be completed in time for the fall semester start.

The major exceptions, he said, are at Goodrich Junior High and Raldolph Elementary School.

At Goodrich, where a major addition is under construction, the academic wing will be nearly complete, but the new gymnasium is two to three months behind schedule, said Prasch.

"It's going to be a mess," he admitted.

At Randolph, where internal remodeling was a project, operations won't be affected, said Prasch, even though there's work still to be done.

At Pound Junior High and Lincoln High, new lockers won't be installed until after school starts, Prasch noted, since the lockers haven't arrived.

In other matters, the school board:

—approved a breakfast program at Clinton and Elementary Schools to be subsidized almost totally with federal funds.

—was told by Lincoln Education Association Executive Director Robert Peterson that the LEA will support former technical college teachers if they decide to seek legal recourse for a board decision to freeze them on last year's salary schedules pending action by the new Southeastern Nebraska Technical Community College.

—authorized the school administration to explore possible statewide coordination of a system to reappoint retired teachers to make them eligible for state retirement plan increases.

—approved a new pay schedule for so-called extra-standard duties, incorporating an overall increase of about 5.5%.

—authorized the administration to proceed with plans to finalize a new schedule of payments for radio and television broadcast of athletic events.

No One Appears To Oppose $18.5 Million County Budget

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

No one appeared in opposition to any portion of the Lancaster County proposed $18.5 million budget at the public hearing Tuesday night attended by about 50 people.

Most of those who requested to be heard urged the county commissioners to support various requests in the area of human and social services on which the board has not yet acted.

Those requesting county support included the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism, $10,000; Women In Community Service (WICS) no specific amount; Lincoln Action Program, $8,239; Goals for Nebraska, $1,000 and Mental Health services, $3,500.

It was also requested by the Juvenile Attention Home study group that $50,000 in revenue sharing funds be appropriated for expansion of the proposed Juvenile Attention facility to accommodate 20 youths instead of the original proposal for about 15.

Any changes in the proposed budget which will require only $4.5 million in county tax funds, must be made Wednesday in order for the county board to adopt a budget by the statutory Aug. 15 deadline.

The mill levy, which is expected to drop to 8.623 mills from the 11.694 county levy last year, will be set after the board receives certification of the county's valuation from the State Board of Equalization which were reportedly mailed Tuesday.

If no changes are made, Lancaster County property owners may look forward to an approximate 26% decrease in the county portion of their total tax bill, according to available estimates of the levy.

The expected mill levy drop resulting from the necessity to raise only $4.5 million by taxation as compared with $5.7 million last year results from several factors in addition to the increase in property valuation in the county.

In preparing its recommended budget, the commissioners transferred $700,000 in inheritance tax funds to the general fund resulting in a levy cut of about 1.4 mills; the cash reserve was cut $500,000 for almost a mill savings; and the county board decided to use revenue sharing funds for new construction including Lancaster Manor remodeling which required a levy of 1.665 last year.

Funeral Mass Set Friday For Msgr. Helmann

Msgr. Maurice W. Helmann, 65, former administrator of the Roman Catholic Church in the Lincoln Diocese, died Tuesday in a Lincoln hospital.

Born in Hastings, Msgr. Helmann was ordained a priest for the Lincoln Diocese in 1932 in Lincoln.

After his ordination, he served in the following parishes: St. Mary's, Lincoln; St. Mary, Davey; St. John, Lincoln; St. Cecilia's, Hastings, and St. Francis, David City.

Msgr. Helmann had been editor and business manager of the Southern Nebraska Register and a diocesan consultor.

Funeral mass will be at 11 a.m. Friday at St. Cecilia's in Hastings. The rosary will be said at 8 p.m. Thursday at the church. Burial will be in Parkview Cemetery, Hastings.

Police Probing Theft Of $400

Lincoln police are investigating the theft of two bank bags containing nearly $400 in cash and checks from the Singer Sewing Machine Co. at 1112 O late Tuesday morning.

Police said the bags were removed from a desk drawer.

Attorney— NU Ticket Suit To Die

A suit challenging the present method of selling tickets to University of Nebraska-Lincoln football games will probably die on Friday, the Lincoln attorney who filed the suit indicated Tuesday.

The suit, filed by attorney Herbert Friedman on behalf of David Kutsch, a part-time instructor in oral biology in the UNL College of Dentistry and a practicing pathologist, asked that the tickets be distributed on a first-come, first serve basis.

The suit alleged that obtaining a ticket to Big Red games has become a matter of knowing someone or forced contribution to groups like the Touchdown Club.

Lancaster Judge William Hastings has upheld a motion that the suit did not contain a cause of action and gave Friedman until Friday to amend the petition.

But Friedman said Tuesday, without further elaboration that he and his client were satisfied with the present situation.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT...

Rice has long been an important food product and is often used instead of spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or potatoes as a mainstay in many family meals. It can be served alone or in combination with meat, poultry, seafood, vegetables or fruit.

There are three basic varieties available in many forms. Short and medium grain rice tends to stick together when cooked and is an excellent choice for meat loaves, molded rice rings, and croquettes. Long grain rice cooks up in fluffy, separate grains for use in main dishes, soups, salads and vegetable dishes.

Pre-cooked, or instant, rice is great if you are in a hurry as it requires a very short cooking time. However, this form should not be used in casseroles or other dishes requiring lengthy cooking as it tends to become pasty.

The seasoned mixes do save you preparation time, but often cost more. You can select either canned or frozen rice varieties. Both of these are also time-savers as they require little, if any, preparation.

Brown rice is delightfully nutty-flavored and is becoming increasingly popular. Use it alone or in combination with other varieties.

Plan to use rice as a meat extender instead of pastas, or as a side dish instead of potatoes to add a bit of variety to family meals.

Remember: One cup of uncooked rice will make about three cups cooked; while one cup of pre-cooked rice will yield approximately two cups, and one cup brown rice will result in three or four cups cooked.

Pershing Budget Hike Welcomed

Auditorium Board members Tuesday showed pleasure at Pershing Manager Ike Hoig's report that the City Council has suggested that he expand the proposed budget for the auditorium.

Hoig proposed that he increase the approximately $3,000 budgeted for refurbishing to about $6,000. Board members suggested that he expand it even more.

Some of the expenditures Hoig proposed for the added funds were adding a red velous curtain to cover the front of the stage, a red velour cover for the electric scoreboard and a new curtain for the stage.

In other business, Charles Humble told the board that it was legal for the auditorium to allow wine to be served at the hospital fashion show and liquor at the KECK cocktail party for advertisers, but that it was a "risky proposition."

If liquor laws are violated at the two events, Humble said, the auditorium would be putting its newly gained liquor license in jeopardy. Both groups had made arrangements to serve the beverages before the auditorium was granted the liquor license.

The board will not make that type of arrangement in the future, but will sell its own beverages in selected cases.

Contracts approved included Sha-na-na, Aug. 20, Grease, Oct. 30, and Loggins and Messina, Nov. 9.

Woman To Pay Child Support

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Noting that "women are clamoring for women's lib," a judge here has ordered a female truck driver to pay child support for her four children.

After hearing testimony that Sherry Lynn Walker, now living in Friend, Neb., abandoned her family in August, 1972, Judge O. Q. Claflin III of the Wyandotte County District Court also awarded her ex-husband custody of the children, all household goods and furniture and a 1962 auto.

"In this case," the judge said, "I decided equal treatment was just the right thing to do."

The complaining husband, Dennis Leiker, argued, "She's an over-the-road truck driver. She makes as much money as I do (and) I think it's only fair that she should have to pay support of the children."

"I agree with you," Judge Claflin said, and ordered that Leiker's wife, who was charged on grounds of extreme cruelty, gross neglect of duty and incompatibility, pay $10 a week for each of four children, ranging in ages from 2 to 8.

The judge said it was the first time in his 17 years on the bench in which he has awarded child support payments to the father.

Man Enters Guilty Plea For Nebraska Robbery

William Carl Post of San Diego Thursday pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to robbing the Cornhusker Drive-In Bank of $17,000 on May 10, 1972.

Post was taken into custody in September 1972 shortly after his alleged partner was shot and killed during a bank holdup at Flat Rock, Mich.

He has been sentenced to 25 years imprisonment in connection with that holdup and has been sentenced to another concurrent 25-year sentence for another holdup in Louisville, Ky.

Victims of the robbery of the drive-in bank in the Belmont shopping center told police that a man holding two revolvers forced them to put the money into a brown paper sack, with which he fled.

U.S. District Judge Warren K. Urbom ordered an investigation prior to sentencing.

Market Takes Plunge

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices dipped lower again Tuesday as investors continued to worry about Phase 4 and soaring interest rates.

The Dow Jones of 30 industrials closed down 12.49 at 870.71, near the closing low of the year on June 25 when it was at 869.13.

Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange had a broad-based 1,018 to 373 lead over advancers in a slow trading volume of 11.74 million.

"The market is under the impact of higher interest rates and shrugged off the strength of the dollar," said Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp.

The dollar moved stronger on overseas markets Tuesday as gold prices slumped.

"If you were able to step back and look at the whole picture," Gordon continued, "this probably is all part of the bottoming out of the market."

With the start of phase 4 Monday, many businesses have begun announcing price increases, another factor that will adversely affect investor confidence, analysts said.

Saxon Industries, down ⅞ at 5¼, was the Big Board volume leader, followed by Bausch & Lomb, down ⅜ at 33¾; Fleetwood Enterprises down 1⅜ at 11¼; Tenneco, down ⅞ at 20¼, and American Telephone & Telegraph, down ⅛ at 47½.

Proctor & Gamble, one of the 30 stocks on the Dow Jones industrials list, fell 7 points to 99¾. It's quarter earnings rose from 62 cents a year ago to 64 cents this year. It also predicted that its unfavorable U.S. earnings would be magnified in the next month or two by Phase 4.

Sears Roebuck, another of the 30 industrials, was down 1⅞ at 95⅛. An analyst was quoted by major publications saying mass marketers such as Sears would be hurt by growing consumer resistance.

On the American Stock Exchange, Lerner Stores Warrants down ¼ at 24, was the volume leader.

The Big Board's Index of some 1,500 common stocks was down 0.52 at 54.71, while the Amex's price-change index was down .10 at 22.97.

Wheat Prices Continue Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices continued their record-breaking pace upward on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday, and at the Minneapolis Grain Exchange wheat futures traded above $5 a bushel for the first time in the nation's history.

Wheat sold for delivery in September closed at $4.93 in Minneapolis after a high of $5.07. In Chicago the September contract remained locked by the 20-cent limit at $4.94 a bushel.

Corn futures also sold at limit higher prices in a very light trade. But oats were as much as 5½ cents a bushel lower and soybeans closed mixed after a relatively brisk session.

New York futures markets closed mostly lower, but wool futures were 3 to 4 cents higher and cotton was unchanged to $3.25 a bale higher, continuing a bullish trend in these commodities.

On the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, live cattle and hog futures prices followed cash trends downward. Cattle prices closed the $1.00 limit down and hogs were $1.10 to $1.50 per hundredweight lower.

Only pork belly futures escaped the general downturn, closing steady to 150 points higher. Egg futures broke sharply under the influence of a sizeable slump in wholesale egg prices.

Iced broiler futures on the Board of Trade closed the limit 2 cents a pound lower, partly in reaction to the slump in the red meat market and partly because of the sluggish movement of high-priced poultry from the retail shelves.

Davis Eyes Contributing Role

When Nebraska opens its fall football camp Thursday Tony Davis will be striving to pick up where he left off three months ago in the pursuit of a couple of things he has on his mind.

The accomplishment of one of them would make both Tony Davis and thousands of Nebraska footbal fans happy. The other is a little more personal and would be accomplished primarily for the self-satisfaction of the Tecumseh native.

Tony Davis

The first thing he'd like to accomplish is to become a contributing member to a successful Husker football season.

Knee surgery kept the hard-running 5-11, 212-pounder out of action last season as the Huskers' running game failed to reach the standards to which NU fans had become accustomed.

"It was a sick feeling, watching those games from the sidelines," he recalls. "I thought I was better than the guys who were playing.

"I didn't really feel like I was a part of the team. I was around the team, but I wasn't contributing anything."

Not Lacking Confidence, Toughness

If there's anything Davis lacks, it's not confidence. Nor is it toughness.

When he says he thinks he's better than anyone else, he believes it. And anyone, who has been close to him knows of his toughness.

He's been referred to as a punishing-type runner. He's been referred to as a Jim Taylor-type runner. And his all-out hustle might be compared to an Enos Slaughter-type athlete.

There's little doubt that if he succeeds, he'll quickly be tagged with the label of Tough Tony.

"Any time I put a uniform on, I figure you should go 100 percent," he says, "whether it's in a game or on the practice field.

"I think my father had a great influence on me in making me a competitor. He didn't push me to play football, but he figured if I was going to, I should give it 100 per cent."

Started At Young Age

Tony also credits a coach he had when he began playing baseball as a youngster in Tecumseh with influencing his hustling approach.

"When I started playing baseball at 8 or 9, my coach then was Harvey McAlexander and he always stressed hustling," Davis points out.

He doesn't mind being thought of as a Jim Taylor-type. "He was always my favorite runner," Tony recalls of his growing-up days when Taylor was bulling his way for yardage for the Green Bay Packers. "He's my type of runner."

Davis originally hurt his knee as a freshman, a season in which he led the Husker frosh in rushing with 302 yards in 1971.

He re-injured the knee before fall camp opened a year ago, but since the surgery has shown no signs of further problems, rushing for a game-leading 89 yards and three touchdowns in the NU Spring Game last May.

"I have no pain at all," he says. "I can't believe how well it has healed. I guess I'm one of the lucky ones," he adds in reference to such as teammate Terry Luck, who had to undergo knee surgery last spring.

May Help Others

Davis may some day be helping other athletes with knee problems.

Like most college football players of his caliber, he has dreams of some day playing pro football. But he also has designs on a future career in physical therapy.

About that lesser goal, the more personal one he has that comes to mind once in awhile.

"When I was a senior at Tecumseh," he recalls. "The high school writer for the Lincoln newspapers didn't make me a member of his all-state team.

"I was disappointed about that and a little disgusted. I'd like to show him he made a mistake."

Accomplishment of Tony's first and primary goal could lead to accomplishment of the second one.

'Lot To Learn About Quarterbacking' Tagge

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Jerry Tagge concedes with all the eagerness of a kid at a circus that he's got a lot to learn about playing quarterback.

"It took me a whole year just to learn to call a play convincingly," the second-year Green Bay Packer quarterback said. "I had to learn you can't call them in a wimpering little voice.

"Even if you don't know what you're going to do you have to act like you do," he added.

Tagge's getting a chance this year to dislodge Scott Hunter as the starting quarterback in Green Bay, where the Packers are desperately in need of help.

The Packers' passing attack ranked 12th among the 13 teams in the NFC last year even though they won the Central Division title and had a 10-4 record.

This year Coach Dan Devine has said Hunter and Tagge will get equal shots at earning the starting job and Tagge, who's sporting a new mustache this season, has a new attitude to match.

"Last year I was hurt most of the time and it was hard studying the game plan— preparing yourself to play for 60 minutes when I knew the only way I'd play was if Scott got hurt," Tagge said. "This year, knowing I'm going to play, it's a lot easier."

Tagge's new attitude is earmarked by a new confidence. He's convinced a quarterback needs to be successful.

"Being a quarterback is a big part being a leader," the 23-year-old Tagge says. "Last year I'd step in the huddle and wonder if they were going to accept what I said. This year I don't care if some of them are 10-year veterans. If I'm playing they're going to take my orders.

"Sure I have second thoughts out there—especially when the coaches call the plays," Tagge said. "Sometimes I wonder if I should call an audible—whether I should change the play the coach called. But I've just got to force that out of my mind and concentrate on the game— on the play coming up."

Tagge got his first chance to start in a Packer uniform in a recent exhibition game against the Buffalo Bills. When it was over he continued to talk about how much he has to learn.

"It's all experience," he said. "You have to learn to read those defenses quicker and pick up on the keys. I have to study the personnel more and play more and get the feel of things. I have to get things like worrying about interceptions out of the way."

In his opening performance, Tagge completed only three of nine passes for 27 yards and had his first toss intercepted.

After the game Devine said he thought both quarterbacks "played pretty well." Tagge missed just barely on a couple of passes, and Devine placed part of that blame on the receivers "not making the tough catches."

During his rookie year Hunter came up with the phrase "stupid rookie mistakes" to explain away some of his errors. He said the same thing several times last year.

And this year Tagge has come up with "getting the feel of things," when asked about interceptions or pass incompletions. Packer fans hope that phrase disappears form the vocabulary sooner than Hunter's.

—PROGRESS CHARTED—

Ketterer Owns Race Horses

By Randy York

Prep Sports Writer

Fremont — Rob Ketterer can be forgiven if the Shrine Bowl football game rates only equal status among his summer sports thrills.

The North squad quarterback from Lincoln Northeast probably had the most unusual summer hobby. He's part owner of two race horses and enjoys charting their progress as much as his own.

"Owning a race horse is a great experience. It helps you see the sport from all sides," Ketterer said here during a break in the Yankees' training camp.

On July 28, the weekend before he was to report to camp at Midland College, Ketterer experienced contentment akin to playing on a state championship football team last fall and a state championship basketball team last March.

Ground Digger, a horse owned jointly by Ketterer and Dr. Lee Bevilacqua of Omaha, won the ninth race at the State Fairgrounds in Lincoln. It won $1,260 for the owners and returned $13.00, $7.80 and $4.40 to bettors.

"I met him through my cousin, Jack," explained Rob. "He was the team doctor for Creighton's basketball team when Jack was there. He asked me if I liked horses. I had been going to the races a lot for a couple of years. And, so when he asked me if I wanted to go in on a horse with him, I said yes."

The two claimed Gold Digger at Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha. Last October, Ketterer and Bevilacqua purchased a yearling on a farm outside of Omaha from Al Vytlas for $600. He named the horse, appropriately, Rob Kebob. "It's had trouble getting out of the gate and seems to tire easily," observes Ketterer, "but it'll come. I'm sure of it."

The Northeast athlete, who has declined to say where he'll attend college, also is sure that the North will win Saturday's 15th Shrine Bowl at Memorial Stadium.

And he hopes to be an important part of it. "I'm an option type of quarterback," he notes, "so I've gotten a good chance to run the wishbone. I have a better arm and I've adapted."

Winning at the Fairgrounds has certainly helped him to adapt.

Reliever Peps Oakland's Win

. . . KNOWLES STARTS GAME

BOSTON (AP) — Darold Knowles, a left-handed relief specialist for most of his eight years in the major leagues, posted his first complete game victory as a starter Tuesday night, pitching the Oakland A's to a 1-0 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

"I've pitched nine innings and even 10 in the past, but that has been in relief," Knowles said after his six-hit effort. "I wanted to be a starter early in my career. However, at this stage and with my glory days, if I ever had any, over, I just want to pitch any way I can."

With ace Jim "Catfish" Hunter still sidelined with a pitching hand injury suffered in the All-Star Game, the A's turned to Knowles, although he failed to finish three previous starts this season.

"I gave this one a lot of thought," Oakland Manager Dick Williams said. "At first I named Knowles, then I switched to Horacio Pina, then back to Knowles. I was hoping to get about five strong innings from Darold, then maybe a couple more from Pina before bringing in maybe Rollie Fingers. Instead, Knowles give us this. A beautiful game, and certainly a big one for us."

"I didn't do anything different out there," said Knowles, who broke into the majors with Baltimore briefly in 1965. "I know only one way to pitch. That's to throw as hard as I can for as long as I can.

"The surprising thing is that I didn't get tired. I felt great in the last inning and didn't want to come out. I felt it could get them out and I did."

Knowles walked five, but was helped by three double plays. He also helped himself by picking off Ben Oglivie after the Boston outfielder led off the eighth with a single. Luis Aparicio later had the Red Sox' final hit wasted in the inning.

Knowles got the game's only run on Dick Green's suicide squeeze bunt in the sixth inning.

Lincoln Riders 'Well Balanced'

By MARK GORDON

Star Sports Writer

In past years, Lincoln has been noted as a "one-jockey" town.

But that view has changed this season as Fred Ecoffey, the perennial riding champion, has been sidelined much of the meeting with an injury sustained in mid-June at Ak-Sar-Ben. And that has thrown the Lincoln riding title into an open-race.

Tuesday, for the second straight day, eight riders scored victories, duplicating Monday's feat.

"I really don't know how often that happens (no rider scoring two wins for two straight days)," said racing secretary Dean Williams. "But it does happen a lot without a standout rider such as Fred Ecoffey has been here the last few years.

"I really don't see any reason why it shouldn't happen very often," he added. "But one thing I have noticed is that maybe because Fred hasn't ridden here very much the percent of winning favorites has been down.

"Maybe Fred not riding very much doesn't have anything to to with that, but the figures have been rising near the end of the meet," he said.

Winning riders Tuesday included Ray Hancock, John Reeves, Dave King, Don Stauffer, Dennis Baxter, Jim Cuddie, Doug Schoepf, Kevin Lintner.

Williams also noted the success he has had with races filling through the first 23 days of the meeting. He said he has only been forced to cancel eight races because of a lack of horses.

"That's phenomenal and unbelievable," he said. "I've never had a meet go that well."

Lizrally, owned by Al and Eileen Cascio, scored her first victory of the year in her eighth attempt.

The 3-year-old filly opened a lead down the backstretch then started to pull away rounding the turn, but the rapidly-closing Artist Chance roared down the stretch to come within a head of the winner.

In winning the featured seventh race, Lizrally returned $7.40, $3.40 and $2.80 while Artist Chance placed for $3.80 and $2.60 and TV Delight showed for $3.60.

In Wednesday's featured race, Mutual Boy and Them Thar Hills share top-weight of 122 pounds as 10 horses are set for the 6-furlong chase for a $1,900 purse.

Prep Playoff Group Says Idea 'Feasible'

By RANDY YORK

Prep Sports Writer

Kearney — After more than two months of research and thought, a 31-man committee studying Nebraska prep football playoff possibilities has decided the idea is feasible.

The vote was 24-4 here Tuesday at Kearney State College, favoring the continuance of study on a playoff proposal to be submitted to the Nebraska School Activities Association Representative Assembly next April.

The group decided to meet again Dec. 5 in Kearney to construct a playoff plan after hearing four proposals Tuesday from football coaches Ken Parish of Cozad, Milt Tenopir of McCook and Randy Carlson of Lewiston and from Lincoln High athletic director Jim Sommers.

Sommers represented the Nebraska Coaches Association and explained its endorsed plan drawn up last November.

"Alternate plans would be sure," remarked Sommers, a former head football coach at Lincoln High. "The coaches will accept almost any proposal. They just want to have a playoff."

The plans presented to the study group were borrowed or accumulated from plans being used in Colorado, Kansas and Iowa with slight modifications.

Parish proposed a plan similar to Colorado's. "It will probably meet with a lot of opposition because it involves much change," he said, "but if we are to make any progress, there must be change."

He recommended leaving classes A and B as they are now (32 and 64 schools) and realigning classes C and D into classes of approximately 64 schools.

"In all classes then, organize schools into districts of eight, determined by geography similar to our present basketball arrangement, and qualify district winners for the playoffs," offered Parish.

Carlson presented a 26-page, detailed proposal, which he called a modified Kansas-Iowa plan. He explained a point system, qualifying four schools from each class (including 8-man) for state-wide playoffs, which would extend three weeks beyond the regular season and finish Thanksgiving weekend.

Carlson emphasized he believed adopting a playoff would require a 2-year "grace period" where schools "can take care of 2-year contracts and committments." According to Carlson, 1974 "is too early to start. I'm recommending a 1976 start."

He also recommended splitting the 17 Omaha Metro schools into one Class A segment and the other 15 'A' schools into an at-large district. Two from each district with the highest point average would then qualify for the playoffs.

That idea is radically different from the coaches association proposal, which would qualify eight teams for Class A playoffs, based on conference championships.

"We don't care what type of point system we have," said Tenopir, "but we have to have one to get started. I think we need a 2-year trial period, which would be more acceptable to administrators and at the same time, help us get our foot in the door."

Tenopir also incorporated ideas from Iowa and Kansas plans and used Nebraska's unique geographical features to consolidate his proposal.

Royals Thump Indians

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fran Healy drove in three runs to lead Kansas City to an 8-5 baseball victory over Cleveland Tuesday night as the Royals retained their half-game lead in the American League West Division.

The Royals added four more runs in the sixth. Cookie Rojas singled in two runs and Fred Patek and Amos Otis each singled in one in the inning.

Ticket Miss Provides Joy To Priscilla

You can't fool your old Aunt Priscilla twice.

After I watched that speedy Ticket Miss win a couple of days ago, I knew that little cutie would win for me.

Aunt Priscilla Wins $5.00

She did, in Tuesday's fifth race, and paid $9. I was so happy as I cashed my ticket that I bought a box of popcorn.

Despite losing $2 on Gray Pine, I still made $5.00. That boosted my $108 spree fund to $71.80.

Wednesday, I'm going to put my $2 win tickets on Real Nova in the sixth and Old Caliph in the eighth.

Coaches Praise Players

By The Associated Press

Individual standouts drew praise from coaches in both the North and South Shrine All-Star football camps Tuesday.

South Coach Don Johnson cited several players following practice sessions on the artificial turf at Lincoln.

He said offensive tackle Bob Parks of Fairbury and offensive center Mark Brooks of Lincoln Pius, who was injured earlier in the camp, both looked good during scrimmage.

Also drawing praise from the Omaha Westside mentor were Jim Mierendorf of Omaha Westside at defensive halfback and Steve Schulz of York at both offensive halfback and defensive cornerback.

The South stars went through two practice sessions Tuesday and then reveiwed films from Sunday's scrimmage.

North players will practice on the artifical turf at Lincoln Wednesday.

Coach Roger Higgins said Tuesday's drills concentrated on the passing game.

He said tackles Tom Davis of Omaha North and Larry Humphrey of Sidney "looked good" in practice.

Dave Romans, an eight-man football player from Fort Calhoun, also caught the coaches eye in the secondary.

Higgins also cited Rod Gales of North Platte at both running back and defensive halfback, and Dan Schultz of Battle Creek, a kicking specialist.

The two teams will meet in the annual Shrine benefit classic Saturday at Lincoln.

Entries are open to all, with the top six finishers receiving trophies for the ten-event competition.

Meet officials — Ray Ehlers of Lexington, Bob Hauver of Kearney, Roger Lauhead of Elwood and Jerry Nott of Arapahoe — announced that contestants should enter the day of the meet and pay the entry fee to be eligible for competition which starts Saturday, 6 p.m.

Anderson Keeps Lead

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (UPI) — Gary Anderson, the Nebraska state senator from Axteil, led the 1973 National High Powered Rifle Championships Tuesday by three points at the end of two of the four days of competition.

Anderson, unable to win a match in the second round, proved most consistent of the 600 rifle shooters, posting scores of 199 out of 200 in the 300-yard coast artillery match and 196 of 200 in the Army Cup competition at 600 yards. Both matches were fired in the prone position.

Anderson's two-day total of 791, 396 for the first round and 395 for the second day, earned him the President's Trophy, an aggregate of the first four matches.

Although Anderson has won 25 gold medals in Olympic, Pan American and world shooting championship competition, he has never taken the National High Power Rifle Trophy.

Royals Edged, Skid Extended

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Two home runs in the ninth inning on consecutive pitches boosted Evansville to a 4-3 American Association victory over Omaha here Tuesday night.

With two out, Tom Bianco walked on a 3-2 pitch before Gorman Thomas clouted a homer against the scoreboard in left center.

On the next pitch, Charles Moore slammed a homer down the left field line, his second of the game. Moore also homered in the fifth.

Jose Arcia knocked in two runs in the fifth with his fifth homerun of the season.

The Evansville win extended Omaha's longest losing streak of the season to eight games.

Eisenhowers Visit Hardins In Lincoln

A pair of distinguished guests slipped in and out of Lincoln Monday almost unnoticed, it was revealed Tuesday.

President Nixon's daughter, Julie Eisenhower, and her husband, David, were in the Capital City for about 30 minutes, visiting with members of the Clifford Hardin family who were gathered at the Nebraska Center.

Julie Eisenhower and Mrs. Robert S. Milligan of Washington, D.C., the former Cynthia Hardin, became close friends while Mrs. Milligan's father, ex-University of Nebraska Chancellor Clifford Hardin, was Nixon's first secretary of agriculture.

In addition to Mrs. Milligan and her husband, others attending the Hardin reunion included Dr. and Mrs. Larry Wood, who have recently moved to Lincoln from the west coast. Mrs. Wood is the former Susan Hardin.

The Eisenhowers, who reportedly drove to Nebraska from Washington last weekend, left Lincoln for an undisclosed destination. Mrs. Eisenhower is scheduled to make an appearance in Jacksonville, Fla., Friday.

The Hardins are now residents of St. Louis, Mo., where he is vice chairman of Ralston Purina Co.

Woman Found Dead In Garage

A 62-year-old Lincoln woman was found dead Tuesday morning of carbon monoxide poisoning, according to police reports.

Police said Ada Whitfield, of 3648 Woods, was found by her husband, George, in the car in the couple's garage with the engine running.

Norway Expels Israeli Man

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Norwegian government on Tuesday expelled an Israeli Embassy secuity officer accused of hiding two Israeli fugitives wanted in the assassination of a Morrocan.

The two fugitives were arrested in the home of the security officer, Yigal Eyal.

The two Israelis arrested in Eyal's Oslo home are among six foreigners charged with roles in a murder plot and with spying on foreign residents in Norway.

The murder victim was Ahmed Bouchiki, a Morrocan waiter slain July 21 at Lillehammer, Norway. There were reports immediately after his death that Bouchiki was killed on the mistaken impression he was a Palestinian agent.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
